WORLD REPORTER HUNGARY

Celebrating Hungarian Ingenuity and Innovations for Future Success. Our newest team-building adventure is based on Hungarian creativity!

Us, Hungarians are very proud of our successes – both nationally and individually. During the past years, we were able to take inspiration from these world-famous achievements including the Nobel Prizes of Katalin Karikó and Ferenc Krausz, or the international fair-play prize of Áron Szilágyi.

Our latest team building program was inspired by this exciting creativity and perseverance.

The remarkable life stories of (less-known) Hungarian scientists, researchers, artists, sport-inventors have helped us to create truly unconventional and extraordinary tasks at each station!

During the team building activity, you will become familiar with (or even try out) the results of those who have created something good, exceptional and significant. You can connect with their activities and achievements through competing in exciting tasks where you can prove your aptitude and creativity!

Let’s explore our common future, our cultural heritage together and collect joyful moments and long-lasting experiences!

Duration: half-day-long program

Number of participants: 50-250 people
